

1st amendment application 10/650,378 Bruno Gagnon

REMARKS--General

Examiner's remark that the word "bar code" was misspelled in claim 10 forced Applicant to check the spelling of the word throughout the document and found that the word had always been spelled as a single word, this forced the amendment to the specification as well as to additional claims besides claim 10. Replacing the spelling in these instances is of course not considered new matter. "Claim X" has been properly renamed "claim 11".
